

ROB STRANGER AND THROW HIM OFF DOCKS

Modesto Laboren Has Harrowing Experience With Chance Acquaintance.

BEGGED FOR LIFE AND GAVE UP HIS MONEY

Saved by Crew of Tug Nearby, Who Heard His Cries for Help.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—A piercing cry, which rent the stillness of the early morning, a splash, a struggling form in the cold waters of the bay and a hazardous and thrilling rescue formed the final chapter in a daring robbery and attempted murder which has aroused the police to energetic action in an effort to bring about the arrest of the perpetrators.

A stranger in a strange city, befuddled with liquor, in an effort to make him lose his way, he guided to a lonely portion of the water front, robbed of his savings and pushed into the bay with but a meager and almost hopeless chance for his life. Tony Page, a laborer of Modesto, passed through a harrowing experience last night and today and is lying at the Harbor Hospital, thankful that he has been snatched from the jaws of death and praying for the apprehension of his would-be murderers.

HAD JUST ARRIVED.

Page arrived here last evening from the southern town, where he has been working for the Santa Fe Railway, on a pleasure jaunt, with $55 wrapped up in a handkerchief in his pocket. He journeyed to Pacific and Kearny streets, and in paying for one drink exhibited his money. A few minutes later he fell in with three countrymen, who volunteered to show him the sights, and with them he visited various resorts, always refraining, however, from taking too much liquor, although they piled him with it frequently and heeded the warning of his would-be friends to look out for his money.

Finally they undertook to show him to the lodging house, the exact whereabouts of which he could not remember, on the water front, and at last they reached a lonely part of Spear street wharf. Here they suddenly turned on him, stole his money from his pocket and rushed him to the edge of the wharf, where they prepared to throw him in.

BEGGED FOR HIS LIFE. In terror for his life, he dropped to his knees and begged them to take his clothing, his hat and everything if they would only spare him, and he promised not to inform the police. His pleadings only brought forth oaths and imprecations from the thugs, who plucked him up and threw him bodily into the bay.

As he fell to the water he screamed and yelled for help and it chanced that Thomas Ford and Roma de Martini of the State dredger No. 3 were nearby. They rushed to the rescue of the now drowning man and Ford plunged in while his companion threw a rope and the pair succeeded in hoisting Page to the dock. He was then turned over to Captain J. F. Petzinger of the U. S. Governor Markham, who conveyed him to the Harbor Hospital, where he was resuscitated by Dr. Tillman. He is unable to speak English at all clearly, but through an interpreter he said:

THOUGHT HE WAS GOING HOME. "I did not know where they were taking me. I thought I was going to my lodgings, but when they turned on me in the darkness I understood. I gave them all my money and when they wanted to throw me into the water I got down on my knees and begged them to spare me. I feared that I would surely drown, but they paid no attention to me. I hope they will not capture me."

Page is not sure that he can identify the culprits if they are apprehended. Sergeant Matheson and Policeman Mullen and Stroup searched along the water front after the occurrence, but could find no trace of the robbers.

Customs Officers In Service Dress

NEW YORK, March 7.—Having satisfied to his satisfaction the more important questions of customs administration at the port of New York, Collector William Loeb Jr. is now figuring on a dress reform in the service. When Mr. Loeb took charge the collectors and surveyors who boarded incoming steamships and inspected baggage, looked like prosperous business men and had nothing to designate their official calling. The collector thinks there should be something about their personal appearance to indicate their mission and accordingly he has already adopted a gold-laced cap of etched blue. A new uniform to correspond will probably be the next step.

Want Automobiles For Fast Driving

SAN LEANDRO, March 7.—A party of autoists in the machine of E. B. Hinkle of Franklin street, Oakland, which was to be used in a race on Saturday, refused to stop at the command of Constable Geisenhofer last night and a bench warrant will be issued for their arrest. The machine was going through the place in a very high rate of speed, according to the officer. Ericson, in the day, was arrested earlier in the day, but was released upon payment of $10 cash bail.

In Pistol Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Kiyuki, a Japanese school boy, while unpacking a suit case at his home, 1603 Geary street, accidentally shot off the index finger of his right hand at 1:30 this afternoon.

He had picked up some handkerchiefs and failed to notice a revolver which had been lying beneath them. Inadvertently he pulled the trigger, but fortunately the bullet struck only the finger, inflicting, however, a serious wound.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Tablets and lozenges will be sold at the drug store, 1603 Geary street, San Francisco, on Thursday.

am quite sure Mr. Lillis' condition is not at all serious."

It was stated Mr. Lillis would not prosecute Mr. Cudahy.

NO COMPLAINT FILED.

Assistant County Prosecutor Jost said he was investigating the case, but had no ground to file enough yet to be able to state what the attitude of the state would be. He said no formal complaint against Cudahy had been filed in the prosecutor's office.

Although newspapermen were unable to obtain an audience with Mr. Cudahy, it was learned he had held a long conference with his attorneys in the apartment of Alexander New, his attorney.

Frank P. Walsh is associated with Mr. New in the case, but he, too, was present. The two attorneys were found in Mr. Walsh's office and when Mr. Walsh was asked for a statement he said:

"See Judge New. He is Mr. Cudahy's attorney. Step right into my private office there and see him. I have nothing to say about the case."

Judge New was equally non-committal.

"Yes, I am associated with Mr. Walsh in representing Mr. Cudahy," he said, "but I have absolutely nothing to say."

"Will Mr. Cudahy make a statement about his trouble with Mr. Lillis?" Mr. New was asked.

"Mr. Cudahy will make no statement for publication," he replied.

Mr. New said he did not know whether or not the State would issue a warrant for Cudahy's arrest.

A score of newspaper men sought Mrs. Cudahy at the packer's palatial home in the south side in an attempt to get a statement.

CHAUFFEUR MISSING.

John Moss, the Cudahy chauffeur, who was with Cudahy during the affair last night, was not to be found today.

A maid was the only one who would appear at the Cudahy home in answer to rings at the doorbells in telling of the affair, she said she came down stairs on hearing the noise of the scuffle in the parlor. She saw a stretcher on the floor with a rope about his neck and about his feet. The man's body was nearly stripped of clothing, she said. His body was bare from the waist down.

Just as the maid arrived at the foot of the stairs, Moss, she says, was pulling on the rope about the neck of the man on the floor and as soon as Moss saw her standing there, she ran and pointed a revolver in her face. She then, she says, ran back to her room.

REMOVED SHOES IN YARD.

Mr. Cudahy had on Saturday evening, the maid said, signified his intention of going down town to attend a political meeting. Mr. Cudahy left the house, she declared, but he and his chauffeur remained about the yard, both having removed their shoes.

Frank F. Snow, acting chief of police, made public Parolman Byrne Underwood's report as made to him. Underwood told of being called to the Cudahy home at 12:30 Sunday morning and of finding Lillis lying on the floor, bound and wounded. Cudahy had explained Lillis' condition, the officer said, by saying Lillis was an intruder in the Cudahy home. Lillis was partly disrobed and a part of his clothing was lying on the floor near him. Dr. Samuel Green, who reached the house, had said that Lillis was not dangerously wounded.

CUDAHY IS SILENT.

Since Cudahy married Miss Edna Cowin, who was a society belle of Oskaloosa, Dec. 28, 1895, the family has been prominent there. On the day of the marriage Cudahy's father made him manager of his Kansas City interests. After a three months' honeymoon, which included trips on special trains and the occupancy of a palace in Italy, the couple returned here and purchased one of the finest homes in the city.

They were at the top of society. They rented a box at each class theater by the year. Cudahy is a member of the Country, Kansas City, New York, and Port Huron, Mich., Yacht clubs. For a time he had many fine horses. Following an injury sustained while playing polo he sold his stable and took up motorcycling.

The Cudahys have five children.

Lillis is a bachelor, 47 years old. He is manager of the Western Exchange bank and prominent socially. He holds memberships in the Kansas City, Country, Evanston golf and Elm Ridge automobile clubs. Often he has been seen in clubrooms in Cudahy's company.

Mrs. Lindsay Freed From the Attorney

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Mrs. Mary A. J. Lindsay, the wife of Attorney Carl Lindsay, a well-known local attorney, was granted a divorce in the court today. The allegation was desertion on the part of the husband, and Mrs. Lindsay, daughter of the couple, furnished the corroborative evidence for her mother's testimony in her behalf, and telling of the alleged desertion on the part of the attorney.

Mrs. Lindsay asks for $100 alimony, but was granted only $75, and $50 court fees.

Window glass fell about Miss Lindsay's face and she received slight cuts from the framments. Her father hastened into the street, but failed to discover the origin of the mysterious shot. The police were notified and a thorough investigation is being made.

Bullet Just Misses Berkeley Girl's Head

BERKELEY, March 7.—While seated by the parlor window of the Barringer residence, 850 Grayson street, West Berkeley, Miss Mary Barringer was terrified by having a bullet pass through a pane of glass near her, missing her head by a few inches. The bullet buried itself in the opposite wall of the room.

Window glass fell about Miss Barringer's face and she received slight cuts from the framments. Her father hastened into the street, but failed to discover the origin of the mysterious shot. The police were notified and a thorough investigation is being made.

Many Visitors Put Names on Register

Notice:

STRUGGLE NOW NATION-WIDE LABOR UNIONISM IS AT STAKE

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—W. D. Mahon, international president of the Carmen's Union, issued a statement tonight declaring the Philadelphia strike had broadened into a nation-wide struggle between capital and labor.

"RUINED MY HOME."

Three men were in the room.

Prostrate on the floor lay Lillis, half nude and bound with a rope.

Above him stood Cudahy. He was in correct evening dress, except that he wore no coat. His sleeves were rolled up. Blood was on his hands. At his side stood a chauffeur, garbed in regulation leather cap and duster, as though he had come into the house after a hurried call and a run with his machine.

None of the men noticed Underwood.

Lillis groaned and tugged feebly at the cords that bound him.

"Don't do it, Jack. Please don't do it," he pleaded.

Cudahy did not answer.

Rushing up to the trio, Underwood addressed Cudahy:

"What does this mean?" he quizzed.

"He's ruined my home. He's ruined my home," said Cudahy, turning to the policeman and making no attempt at resistance.

CUDAHY ARRESTED.

"You are under arrest," said the policeman. "All right. I'll go with you, but let me call my attorney before you take me to the station," said Cudahy, calmly.

"Call your attorney and I'll get an ambulance for this man," said Underwood.

"It's Jere Lillis," Cudahy said over his shoulder as he walked toward a telephone.

Lillis was removed to the hospital and Cudahy taken to prison where he was released on bail.

The answer to the Rapid Transit Company's telegrams will come from organized labor of the country.

in business for himself, in which he did not score the success he anticipated, he took a position as head accountant for the J. D. Spreckels Company. He has the reputation of being one of the most expert accountants in the state, and will undoubtedly fill the position of county auditor acceptably."

SECONDED BY FOSS.

Supervisor Foss said: "I have known Mr. Lutgen for sixteen and a half years as a resident of Berkeley, and will say that he is a man with good red blood in his veins. THE TRIBUNE has stated that the auditor would come from Berkeley, but that he would not be friend of F. W. Foss. I do not think Mr. Lutgen is an enemy of mine. Although I favored the aspirations of Mr. Gompers, I would like to second the nomination of Mr. Lutgen."

Supervisor Muller said: "I wish to endorse Mr. Lutgen as being eminently qualified for the position."

Supervisor Bridges declared: "I have not had a long acquaintance with Mr. Lutgen, but he comes to me highly recommended and I have no hesitancy in endorsing his candidacy."

OTHER APPLICANTS.

F. R. Porter presented a petition endorsing him for the position of county auditor.

W. T. MacBride made written application declaring himself a candidate.

Upon roll call five votes were cast for Lutgen, who was then declared duly elected.

Mr. Lutgen was then called upon. After thanking the board for the favor of their support, he said:

"I will run the office in the right lines and do the best I can for the people. I hope at the end of the ten months you will be satisfied with your choice."

APPOINTMENTS MADE.

Upon his appointment the new county auditor filed his bond for $20,000, furnished by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, through J. B. Lankford, its Alameda county agent.

It was approved by the six superior judges. Upon relieving his predecessor Mr. Lutgen announced the reappointment of all the present deputies, excepting W. W. Pierce and W. Sopka, the former the father and the latter the brother-in-law of the retiring auditor.

CONVENTION IS LOST STATE SUES FOR BECAUSE HALL IS LACKING

Chamber of Commerce Committee Fails to Find Quarters for Meeting.

ORGANIZATION CANNOT ASSEMBLE IN OAKLAND

Movement Started to Obtain Bond Issue for Needed Auditorium.

An energetic member of the Progress and Prosperity Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce some six months ago wrote a letter to a personal friend in the east who is president of a great semi-industrial organization of medical men to inquire as to the possibilities of finding a suitable location for the holding of the convention.

The answer received in due time was a very favorable one in its content. Interested in its properties the bay area Oakland was mentioned as the most suitable location for the holding of the convention.

2000 DELEGATES

The writer on to state the requirements and made an inquiry as to what accommodations the city could offer in the way of a hall that would be sufficiently large enough to accommodate 2000 delegates and their friends in order to allow for a public exhibition of exhibits.

Then it was that the committee members began their rapid thinking and calculation. It was agreed that the available places where a hall could possibly be found, located and found, if up against it. After a great deal of thought it was felt that it would be impossible to obtain a suitable hall for the holding of the convention.

WANT CITY TO OWN HALL

And as the committee started an exceptional opportunity for some of the best advertising it could obtain it also became benefiting by the thousands of dollars that would eventually be expended.

Because of this kind of other lost opportunity a movement has been started towards securing a bond issue for the construction of a convention hall to be owned by the municipality.

RESPONDENTS NAMED

Among the respondents named in the bill are H. C. Cassell, president of the Pennsylvania Construction Company, and his associates, E. L. Reinhold and F. B. Reinhold, their company receiving the contract for the metallic furniture. Frank G. Harris, State Treasurer from May 1902 until May 1904, the executor of the estate of William L. Metherell who died after conviction and who was State Treasurer from May 1904 to May 1906, E. B. Herd, Auditor General from May 1904 to May 1907, T. L. Lury, Dry Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds from January 1903 to January 1907, Joseph M. Huston, architect for the capitol buildings, and also architect for the furnishing thereof and the executors of the estate of John H. Sanderson.

A GOOD CHANGE.

A Change of Food Works Wonders

The wrong food and drink can set a lot of trouble in this world. To bring the food is the first duty of every person that is ill particularly from stomach and nervous trouble. As an illustration a lady in Missouri has with her husband been brought around to health again by leaving off coffee and some articles of food that did not agree with them. They began using Postum and Grape Nuts food. She says:

"For a number of years I suffered with stomach and bowel trouble and kept getting worse until I was ill most of the time. Also for years I left off coffee and began taking Postum. My stomach and bowels improved right along but I was so reduced in flesh and so nervous that the easiest thing would overcome me."

"Then I changed my food and began using Grape Nuts in addition to Postum. I lived on these two principally for about four months. Day by day I gained in flesh and strength until now the nervous trouble has entirely disappeared and I am in the best of health and health to boot. My husband is 72 years old and he was troubled for a long time with occasional cramps and slept badly. I finally called upon him to leave off coffee and take Postum. He had stood out for a long time, but after he tried Postum for a few days he found that he could sleep and that his cramps disappeared. He was satisfied and has never gone back to coffee."

"I have a brother in California who has been using Postum for several years his whole family use it also because they have had such good results from it."

"Look in 'Lingers' for the little book 'The Road to Wilshire'. There is a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THOMAS C. PLATT DIES SURROUNDED BY SONS

SUDDEN PASSING OF NOTED FIGURE

He Was a Power in Politics and Had an Eventful Life.

NEW YORK March 7—Thomas C. Platt, for a quarter of a century the most powerful factor in New York politics and the founder of the modern political machine, died yesterday in his 77th year. His long life ended as a slender cord night strip in twain.

By reason of their regular Sunday visits to their father rather than from a belief that the end was near, his three sons Frank, Edward and Harry and his wife, Frank Platt, were at his bedside in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus Abell, 175 West Franklin street, with whom the Senator had made his home for the last 10 years. Dr. Paul Outridge, the family physician, and Mr. and Mrs. Abell were also present.

IN JOYFUL MOOD

Senator Platt, whose mentality has triumphed for almost a score of years over physical infirmities, was in one of his brightest and most jovial moods. He had rallied from a sleeping spell which sent him to bed at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and which had recurred at 3 o'clock and was chattering on topics of the news when the doctor arrived at 3:30 and he finally joked the physician about the coming time when his services would not be needed.

Proposed up in bed he took part in the small talk of those present for fifteen minutes after the arrival of the physician. Then a tremor passed through his frail frame and by the time Dr. Outridge reached the side of his patient Senator Platt was dead.

Dr. Outridge did not have to announce the visit of death to the group about the bed. They were almost stunned by the sight of the lifeless body of the old man, who at a moment before was talking with them.

Then they gave way under the strain and Frank Platt and his brothers and the two daughters in law wept and even physicians' eyes were not dry.

The end so long delayed had come at last.

MADE ROOSEVELT PRESIDENT

General regret was expressed by those who had known Senator Platt coupled with phrases of appreciation of an event in his life in which men were moved to like enthusiasm on the part of the public.

LOVED WIFE, BUT

Spouse for Old Home and
She Gets Divorce.

On the seventh day of March, 1907, Phillip T. Hammond, a printer, and Gertrude Wilkes of 126 Sixth street, West Berkeley, were married in the Hall of Records in this city. Hammond was then 30 years old, and his bride 18.

Hammond took his bride to Santa Barbara and placed her in a tent. Not finding this sort of life Mrs. Hammond induced her husband to return with her to Berkeley, where they took up their residence with her uncle.

Prior to his marriage, Hammond had lived with his maternal grandmother in Marin County. By the middle of June following his marriage the young husband became so homesick, Mrs. Hammond said, that he woke up one morning crying.

"What is the matter?" Mrs. Hammond asked.

"I want to go back to grandma," Hammond replied, and at 10 o'clock that very morning he deserted his young bride and returned to his grandmother, with whom he has since resided.

A final decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Hammond by Superior Judge Ellsworth, together with permission to resume her maiden name. The decree carries with it no alimony.

Some Reformers in Their Variety.

After holding another secret session the executive committee of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League announces the nomination of several more candidates for State officers. This small group finds it necessary to transact a business calling for public endorsement with the utmost secrecy. Perhaps modesty dictates the concealment of its labor pains from public sight, and, then, again it may be deemed expedient that the people should not survey too closely the process of saving the country. At any rate these devoted guardians of public virtue are determined that the enemies of good government shall not see their plans nor the ignorant and vulgar gaze with impudent curiosity on the inner workings of their machine. Possibly the disputes of the rival engineers might excite the mirth of the ungodly. It would never do to expose the workings of the spirit of righteousness to the ridicule of the wicked.

But in some particulars the processes of the country-saving machine (due to the extreme privacy observed) are inexplicable. For instance, the executive committee has renominated as candidates of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League W. R. Williams for State Treasurer, U. S. Webb for Attorney General and William S. Kingsbury for Surveyor General. Why Edward W. Hyatt was not nominated also is a mystery. At the Santa Cruz convention he threw a Pardee delegation into the pot and drew out the nomination for Superintendent of Education. Mr. Hyatt has a right to complain of unfair discrimination when he contrasts the treatment accorded him with the favor shown Messrs. Webb, Williams and Kingsbury.

Mr. Webb, Mr. Williams and Mr. Kingsbury were all nominated at Santa Cruz on the ticket with James N. Gillett and Charles F. Curry. They combined with Gillett to defeat Pardee and nominate themselves. They programmed their delegates down the line. Had they refused to combine with the Gillett forces Pardee would have been renominated and no program ticket would have been put up at Santa Cruz. Each one of these men was promised a nomination if he would throw his delegates into "the pot." Each got his job and each is responsible personally for what took place at Santa Cruz.

Take the case of State Treasurer Williams, for example. He is from Fresno. Dr. Chester Rowell, owner of the Fresno Republican and uncle of Chester Rowell, titular head of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, dominated the Fresno delegation and under his dictation that delegation was programmed with Gillett to give Williams the nomination. Williams was an unknown man of no particular prominence in his own county. He could never have been nominated save by the combine process which has been from time immemorial a concomitant of the convention system. Williams would have had no particular standing even in the Fresno delegation but for the Rowell influence and the Rowell manipulation. Williams helped nominate Gillett and Curry and Gillett and Curry helped nominate Williams.

The same is true of Attorney General Webb and Surveyor General Kingsbury. They helped man the organization craft and took their share of the prize money. Now they are offering themselves as candidates for re-election as an effective protest against the methods which lifted them from obscurity and placed them in high office. Webb programmed his delegates at Sacramento in 1902, and was elected that year, as he was four years later, as an organization man. Pardee, it may be added, was nominated and elected as an organization man by precisely the same methods he now condemns—methods which caused Webb to forsake him at Santa Cruz.

With Alden Anderson the case is entirely different. He was nominated with Pardee in 1902, and he appeared at Santa Cruz as a stout champion for Pardee's renomination. He turned a deaf ear to seductive suggestions that he become a candidate for Governor himself. He declined to embarrass Pardee to advance his own political fortunes. He did not, however, deem it his duty to kick out of the party because the bunch of alleged reformers who have just renominated Webb, Williams and Kingsbury made it possible for Gillett to get the nomination over Pardee. It is now asserted that Mr. Anderson is not fit to be Governor because Gillett was nominated at Santa Cruz. Then why are Webb, Williams and Kingsbury worthy to fill the offices they hold? They helped nominate Gillett while Anderson opposed him. Anderson sacrificed his individual aspirations to his convictions, while Webb, Williams and Kingsbury elevated themselves by sacrificing their convictions, if they had any, contrary to the course they pursued.

But Anderson is now ruled off the course by men who betrayed their local constituencies in 1906. These men say the Southern Pacific nominated the Republican ticket at Santa Cruz. Then the Southern Pacific nominated Webb, Williams and Kingsbury, and Webb, Williams and Kingsbury helped the Southern Pacific nominate James N. Gillett. To be consistent Webb, Williams and Kingsbury, instead of asking for re-election on the ground that they profited by an infamous political deal, should confess their own unworthiness and advocate the election of Alden Anderson in recognition of the virtue he displayed when they bartered their independence and the principles of good government for political preferment. They should be on the mourners' bench and not candidates on a reform ticket. A man may not justly claim his own political criminality in the past as a title to renewed honor in the present.

No More Switchbacks on Broadway.

The application of the Oakland Traction Company for a permit to put in a switchback on Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth street, should not be granted. There is a switchback already between Seventh and Eighth streets, and to put another in on the next block above will be to inflict a deadly blow to business and property below Tenth street. Besides, the great central thoroughfare of the city should not be made a switching yard to the general obstruction of traffic. There are enough obstructions on Broadway already. No more should be permitted; moreover, all cars coming into Broadway should run down as far as Seventh street at least. The principal street of the city should not be blocked up to suit the convenience of any individual or corporation.

After a man passes fifty he begins to look upon his liver as his enemy, says the Galveston News. Oint here a good many use it as a reasoning organ instead of their brains. Such people draw their sentimental inspirations from their spleens instead of their hearts.

Dr. David Starr Jordan's announcement that he will retire from the presidency of Stanford University is too premature to be a cause for gratification. The retirement is to take place six years hence. He may change his mind, as he has done not infrequently in the past.

It looks as though the trial of Dr. Willard P. Burke, indicted for an alleged attempt to murder Lucilla Smith and her illegitimate child, would be made a political issue. At least, some of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League organs are manifesting a friendly interest in the doctor. Hiram Johnson is retained for the defense.

Timely and Interesting Topics

Practically every time the turbine liners Mauretania and Lusitania reach port the Cunard line receives letters from owners of small boats on both sides of the Narrows protesting against the speed with which these vessels come into port. The boat owners contend that the big liners have such big displacement and travel so fast that they send in combers big enough to smash and swamp any small boat not made particularly fast.

Colonel George S. Anderson, of the general staff of the army, on duty in New York as chief of staff of the Department of the East, bears a remarkable resemblance to Major General Frederic D. Grant, for several years commander of the department. So striking is the likeness that a newspaper man, meeting him in the Army Building a day or two ago, exclaimed that the United States government has given permission to bring the two big ships up the Ambrose channel at fourteen knots, and it is not the fault of the company if combers roll in on the beach. As a rule, the fast turbine vessels speed along within a mile of the lightship at the entrance of the channel at twenty-four or twenty-five knots. The heaviest rainfall ever recorded for a single day on the Isthmus of Panama occurred during the great flood of last December, between the hours of 10 a. m. December 28, and reduce speed to eight knots and the swell sent out from them does not greatly affect smaller craft close by.

DENIES ATTEMPT TO UNLOAD TRACT

J. F. Kingston Explains His Connection With Dissension in Mothers' Club.

Editor TRIBUNE: In your issue of the fourth instant you stated that the Lockwood Mothers' Club was rent by dissension over its President, Mrs. Moore, caused incidentally by the recommendation for a playground site, further stating that Mrs. Moore and J. F. Kingston were trying to "unload" another tract other than the one recommended for which the claim is made that Kingston is agent if you will permit me space to answer the above you will confer a favor and perhaps clear up some of the so-called "dissension."

As I am not a member of the Mothers' Club I cannot say as to whether or not any dissension really exists there. But I do think that in justice to all, and in fairness to our community, I should be permitted to explain the status of the playground site, insofar as I am concerned. At a mass meeting held in the Lockwood School, a short time ago, Messrs. Moore, Purvis and myself were appointed as a committee to wait on the Board of Education to request them in their call for a bond election to include a sufficient amount to purchase what is known as the Fox tract as it adjoins the Lockwood school and is very desirable for both school purposes and for park and playgrounds.

FOX TRACT WANTED.

It seemed to be the unanimous opinion of all present at the mass meeting that the Fox tract should be acquired, for it is generally admitted that there is no more desirable site for the purpose in the annexed district. The committee was given to understand that the purchase price would be about $2000 per acre and we appeared before the Board of Education and stated that we expected to procure the tract at that price. They endorsed our request and instructed us to procure an option.

The other members of the committee asked me to see Mrs. Fox's agent, who is Judge Frank of San Leandro and secure an option if possible. The Judge informed me that Mrs. Fox would not give an option under any circumstances.

This decision placed the committee in an awkward position, as they did not know whether the City Council would buy or condemn a site without first obtaining an option on the property.

It was thought advisable, not only by the committee but by many of the citizens of this vicinity, that if for any reason we could not secure the Fox tract it would be well to have another tract in view, as it is essential to the welfare of the district that we have more school accommodation. We investigated and found several who were willing to sell for school and park purposes and at the price named.

NO INTEREST IN TRACT.

The claim is made that I am agent for a certain tract and that I tried to "unload." That statement is not true, for I am not an agent for the tract mentioned, have no option nor interest whatever in the tract alluded to, or any other in the vicinity. The interest that I have is a general one, that we get better school and a park site—the Fox site is possible.

Respectfully, J. F. KINGSTON,

Folsom, Cal., March 7, 1910.

Finds Discrepancy In Court's Minutes

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Judge Carroll Cook, representing Dr. J. J. Arberry, convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses, called the attention of Judge Dunne today to a discrepancy between the rough minutes of the court and the engrossed minutes.

When the prosecution was granted a non-prosecution to file an amended complaint, the judge intimated he believed that neither defendant nor his counsel were present. The engrossed minutes stated that they were, and as Cook held this point to be vital and counsel for the other side admitted that he was right, Judge Dunne ordered the correction made.

This point was raised for purposes of appeal. Attorney Cook also renewed his application for bail, saying he feared for the health of his client in the county jail, but this Judge Dunne denied.

Two Fall Victims To Man Behind Mask

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Edward Hollering, on 1912 De Haro street, was held up at twenty-third and Vermont streets, early this morning, by three men who robbed him of $20.

While meeting his horse at 411 Washington street, Isidor On was held up by a hooded tree man who snatched a sum of money and his gold watch and chain.

Lindsay's Art With Lash Is Crowning Novelty at Orpheum

MISS EDITH HINKLE at Oakland Orpheum.

With one crack of his thirty-foot whip Fred Lindsay yesterday took the big Sunday crowds at the Oakland Orpheum across the seas away over the land of the bush, his own land, where for years he was one of the most famous bushmen who enjoyed other things, learned to do wonderful things with a thirty-foot whip.

Lindsay is no actor, but that is not an excuse why he should not be called an artist. He is not of the song and dance bugade, and the drama is a foreign field to him. He is merely an expert with the whip, and as such he undoubtedly deserves the name. Again the crowds put on the head of man when he comes to the front with something new under the sun. The crowds were bound and determined to catch him, and all that his reputation as a stock whip expert is thoroughly deserved. He accomplished wonders with his whip and excited wonder when you wanted to FEATS WITH LASH.

Probably nobody in all the throng at the Orpheum yesterday had ever seen him before, but the moment Lindsay did with his long, long stock whip lash, it was a great sight to see a stalwart, handsome man swing a whip so long and slender that one man would make that whip respond to pretty nearly every lash that one might give. Lindsay made his whip do everything but presto, the delicate lash from a cigar end to the tip of the whip, and he did that with the greatest of skill. Again the whip uncurls, and with a roar, bang! a small canon the lash is sent against a beer bottle and the bottle is sliced in two.

Again the whip is uncurved and an ordinary envelope is still open as nearly as if done with a paper knife in the hands of a man at a desk. These are a few of the things that Lindsay makes his whip do. He is a master of his art, and in the hands of an expert such as he is, as accurate as a bullet is a gun, and that is saying great deal.

SUPERSTITION.

A new dramatic sketch company was introduced when Charles Bowes, a well-known producer, came to San Francisco. The play is good and so are the players. Miss Hinkle is a beautiful girl. Bowes is a first-class actor and the people concerned make good.

Now we are willing to join with London and New York and to acclaim Walter C. Kelly as a kingpin among the story tellers of the stage. Kelly works alone. He needs no assistance, and he is a superb artist who in his courtroom has a variety of characters pass before him, and who treats these different characters in a variety of ways and in a variety of situations. The crowds yesterday chuckled, then laughed when roared as Kelly ran the gamut of his courtroom stuff. He is a first-class actor and a good character work and a high class uncurls, and with a roar, bang! a small canon the lash is sent against a beer bottle and the bottle is sliced in two.

LASTEST ONE-PIECE WORK APRON.

Tribune Pattern No. 3205

All Sizes Allowed.

A really practical work apron, one that protects the wearer from neck to skirt hem, is necessary; in fact, indispensable to every woman who looks after her household affairs, whether it be to do a little dusting or to see to the washing, also an apron of this kind is quite as much needed by the artist student. The pictured model will make a strong appeal for favor, as it is not only practical, but so very easy to make, being all in one piece, with only a single button and buttonhole or hook and eye for the fastening. The garment is pieced made of gingham and white sateen, and can also be made of gingham, toweling, percale, brown or red denim, chenille, duck or jeans. Should a little more effect be desired the neck edge, arm holes and pocket can be trimmed with wash braid or decorated with bands of cross stitching. The pattern is cut in four sizes--32 to 44 inches bust measure. For 36 bust the apron requires 50 yards of material 36 inches wide.

Price of pattern, 10 cents.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Women, according to a German philosopher, are the poetry of the world, in the same sense as the stars are the poetry of heaven. Clear, light giving, harmonious, they are terrestrial planets that rule the destinies of mankind.

The custom of boring the noses, as English women do their ears, is very common in several nations of the east; through the perforation are hung various materials, such as green crystals, gold, stones, a single and sometimes a great number of gold rings, this is rather troublesome to them in blowing their noses.

In Japan the wife is inferior to her husband and also to his parents, with whom she resides and is obliged to obey. Kissing is unknown in Japan, and the kiss as practiced by other nations causes great amusement Japanese husbands and wives never walk out side by side, and if the wife pre-deceases her husband he does not attend the funeral, but sends the children.

Mme. Grumberg, a young woman lawyer of Paris, has announced her desire to become a magistrate. She calls on her opponents to cite any article of the code forbidding a woman to serve, and also recalls the fact that Mme. Miroslavsky, an advocate, was recently called on to take the place of an absent judge. Mme. Grumberg asks why women should not be permanently appointed judges if they are allowed to serve temporarily.

Walks Fifteen Miles to Be Married

DUQUOIN, Ill.—Rather than delay his marriage by waiting for a train that was late, John M. Miller, a farmer living five miles from this city, walked five miles to Pinckneyville to get the license and ten miles to this city, with the temperature near zero, last night.

His marriage to Mary A. Terry took place on schedule time, but to get back to his home, where a reception awaited them, they were compelled to walk the five miles through lack of any conveyance.

"If Your Nervous System Is Right, Love Can't Find a Way," Says Doctor

CHICAGO.—Sentimental artists who picture Dan Cupid, accompanied with bow and a quiver of arrows, are behind the times.

The little god now runs around carrying a storage battery that generates love waves.

Young couples who go mooning around in the springtime are merely the victim of these love waves which are splashing on their nervous ganglia.

At least this is the opinion expressed by Dr. James Whitney Hall, today, called as a witness in the trial of Thomas Katsones on charge of murdering Miss Victoria Kawalo, a Polish girl.

Katsones' attorney endeavored to prove that insanity resulting from love for the girl inspired their client's deed. To refute this the state's attorney today summoned Dr. Hall to tell what love really is.

According to the medico-legal expert, love is never insanity, but is a temporary affection of a weak nervous system.

A love wave can break in on the nervous system and disorganize it in much the same way that a germ finds lodgment and produces a couple of weeks of la grippe.

On the other hand, says Dr. Hall, if a person's nervous system is properly organized and protected, D. Cupid can splash his love waves all up and down the spinal column in vain.

Political Education, at No. 23 West 44th street, yesterday morning that there was a great need for low priced hotels for working girls, Mrs. Eva Donald Valesh warned the League for Political Education, at No. 23 West 44th street, yesterday morning that there was a danger that they might tend to cut wages.

"There are always employers who will take advantage of these things," she said.

"Look how cheap you can live," they say, and along comes another reduction.

But-hotels for working girls are needed, only they mustn't be organized on stiff lines. In America we're too likely to want to fix persons' lives after our own pattern. It does seem strange that we don't have the cheap, comfortable little inns you find everywhere in Europe.

"Cheap resorts get immoral here," objected a woman in the front row. "The cafe life is ideal for working people in Europe, but cafe life is far from ideal here."

"Such places are immoral here because of the conditions that are permitted in New York," said the speaker. "The cafe system, for instance, which wouldn't be tolerated in some European cities. The municipality ought to do more for working girls. They are taxpayers. There ought to be small parks, places for recreation on the water, places where working girls can meet young men in a nice way. At present they're driven on the street, and you know what that means.

Above all, they need decent places to live in. I sometimes wonder how on earth these girls, with their wages, manage to exist in New York.

"The big hotel that was started here some years ago supposedly for working women has become so popular with women who don't have to work that a girl with ordinary wages, even, couldn't possibly live there. The right sort of homes for working women are needed, but above all let us strive to get wages up to a living level."

TO FURNISH WATER
IN TWO YEARS,
SAYS TEVISEngineers Now Busy Preparing
Contracts to be Offered
Alameda County.PLANS IN GOOD SHAPE
AND PROGRESS QUICKLYCompany Is Now Installed in Offices and Ready for Business.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The engineering forces of the Bay Cities Water Company, supplemented by additional employees, are busily at work figuring upon the contracts which are soon to be submitted to the people of Alameda county looking toward the commencement of operations by the new concern.

President William Tevis and his assistants are endeavoring to determine the lowest number of gallons per day which it will be necessary to contract for in order to commence the building of the pipe line which is to have a capacity of approximately 22,000,000 gallons, a sufficient amount with plenty to spare, for the present needs of Alameda.

The possibility of water coming from Santa Clara county, which has already been mentioned, was discussed by Mr. Tevis this morning, and he declared that his relations with the people of Santa Clara county will be amicable and that he may bring some of his supply from that section.

PLAN SPECIMEN CONTRACT.

He is contemplating the almost immediate issue of a specimen contract which will be circulated, and according to his present plan will carefully show the scheme of dividends to consumers, making each property owner practically a partner and share holder in the water company.

"I firmly believe that two years from now I will be furnishing water to the city of Oakland," said Mr. Tevis. "I hope to make all the people my friends, and I am sure this plan, which makes them literally partners with me, will seem favorable in the eyes of all, and will cause a flood of contracts to flow in upon me when I start my men to work. Of course, as the contracts increase in addition to the amount required before we construct the pipe line we will have some additional expenses of distribution, but the majority of the increased revenue of the company will be turned back to the consumer. We will naturally reserve some money as our business increases for needed improvements, and extensions, but every time we secure a substantial amount of new contracts the profit will be returned to the property owner.

MORE MEN AT WORK.

I have an additional force of men at work on these figures now. My plans are in splendid shape, and we are going ahead."

The company is already installed in its offices in Oakland, and when the contracts, as finally arranged, are ready for circulation a big force of men will be put on and the property owners requested to sign.

Every intention of the company regarding dividends when new contracts are secured, which is really another way of prophesying the "rise rate" is to be specified according to President Tevis on each contract, and the property owners will be advised with their eyes open, and the project will in all probability have first been accepted and endorsed by the Oakland City Council, and later, in turn, if the efforts of the company meet with success, by the Alameda council and the Berkeley council.

Graft Convictions
Affirmed by CourtSnyder and Schumaker Must Serve for the Pennsylvania
Capitol Furniture Deal.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—The conviction of William P. Snyder and James M. Schumaker, charged with the attempted arson of the state capitol was affirmed by the State Supreme Court here today. Snyder was a former auditor general and Schumaker a former superintendent of public buildings and grounds.

Snyder and Schumaker were convicted in the Dauphin County Court at Harrisburg on December 18, 1909, and sentenced to serve two years and to pay a fine of $500 each, and the costs of the prosecution.

John H. Sanderson, who had the furniture contract for the capitol, and William J. Mathews, former State Treasurer, who paid the alleged fraudulent furniture bills, were convicted and received a similar sentence at the same time.

Sanderson and Mathews have since died. The cases were carried to the highest tribunal in the State, which today affirmed the decisions of the lower court.

Duchess Turns Up Her Nose
At Our Way of Doing Things

DUCHESS OF MANCHESTER.

NEW YORK, March 7.—That the American spirit of independence, and the determination of the smart set on this side of the ocean to pursue their more or less hilarious and entertaining way, despite the disapproval of European nobility, is eminently disconcerting to the Duchess of Manchester since her affiliation with England is demonstrated by her refusal to attend a number of affairs now being planned by social leaders at Palm Beach, where she is a distinguished guest.

Before her marriage the Duchess was none other than Miss Irene Zimmerman, daughter of the Chicago millionaire of that name. Her sudden disappearance from the customs of the United States which was the only home she knew until a few days ago is causing considerable surprise.

With her arrival in New York recently the titled lady refused to receive a number of her old friends for at least a week after her installation at one of the big downtown hotels, and when she finally consented to accept cards she made rather a point of remaining the shortest time at any one function.

She left for Palm Beach early last week, accompanied by her son and a retinue of servants. Shortly after her arrival she put the stamp of dual approval on the dance in the famous palm room of the grand Ritz Carlton Hotel by leaving it in disgust when a half dozen of the younger smart set essayed a calèche in her presence. No apologies have been forthcoming as yet, and the Duchess in high dudgeon is keeping closely to her room.

At a conference of suffragists leaders it was announced that County Attorney Lewis has decided not to press the suit against $6.42 personality taxes from Miss Squires, and is hoping to avoid a legal issue which the prominent Chicago were planning to raise by joining in Miss Squires' injunction petition.

COMET SOON TO PASS FROM EARTH SIDE OF THE SUNCelestial Wanderer's Path in the Heavens as Traced by Father Ricard of Santa Clara

SAN JOSE, March 7.—The Rev. Father J. J. Ricard, one of the leading professors at Santa Clara College, and who has been making extended observations and study of Halle's comet while on its approach to the sun, gives the following statement regarding the celestial wanderer which will be visible with the naked eye about the 13th of May:

"The days of Halle's comet on this side of the sun are numbered. Observation is getting more and more difficult and rare. The buzz of the sun is not a favorable environment for tracing. With the rapid flight of the comet to its center of attraction with the ascent of the sun from south to north, and the visible lengthening of the days, opportunity to observe is diminishing space one week more, and we shall have to give it up."

WILL RISE EARLY.

"On March 20th the right ascension of the sun at 4 a. m. is 0 h. 18 m. 10.77 s.; that of the comet is 0 h. 14 m. 0 s., approximately. This places the comet nearer the famous point in the sky on which the astronomical clocks of the world depend for their noon than the sun. On March 25th likewise at 4 a. m. on the Pacific slope the sun stands at 0 h. 14 m. 22.66 s. and the comet at 0 h. 16 m. 0 s., which places the sun nearer the same than the comet."

"The change of situation occurs therefore during the interval March 25th-26th, and the comet will tantalize the human eye as an evening star; after that date it will begin to blaze forth as a morning star and invite to early rising for the love of science."

"On March 25th, too, the celestial wanderer will fall from a distance of 162,847,600 miles to the earth, and 73,325,200 miles to the sun. It should be carefully noted that although the comet passes to the west of the sun there is no danger whatever of the sun inflicting any harm on the earth or the other for the circles of their motions are entirely different. Thus on the above date, March 25th, the comet will be eight degrees, five minutes north of the equator, and the sun only one degree fifty-eight minutes seven-eights seconds."

LOST FOR TWO WEEKS.

"After March 25th the comet will get lost for a short week in the deep twilight of solar splendor. After that and until April 20th, it will irritate the morning sky sufficiently away from the sun to satisfy the curiosity seekers as well as the astronomer."

"April 20th will be the day of its greatest reapproach to the sun, and the day of its fiery baptism, when after taking a deep plunge into the sea of solar electrical luminous cataracts, it will come to a new life and exist giant-like, on its way back to the west into its heights of celestial beauty."

"Shortly after April 20th, when it has crossed the other half of its elliptical orbit, and again it is an even greater distance from the sun, it will be

BABY SWALLOWS SEVEN MATCHES

Son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Frier in Danger as Result of Act.

ALAMEDA, March 7.—Swallowing the heads and part of the wood of seven large press matches, Robert Frier, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Frier, well-known residents of 1129 Solano street, was hurried to the Alameda Sanitarium yesterday morning in a serious condition, and his life was at first despaired of.

Dr. Chauncey P. Fowl was called and used the stomach pump on the child successfully. He stated today that the poison from matches worked through the system slowly and it would be impossible to tell the result of the case for a few days.

The baby was removed to its home last evening. It only lay in bed alone in a downstairs room of the home, when, with the aid of a chair, it reached seven matches on a high shelf and was busily devouring them when found by his mother.

There have been two fatal cases recently from eating matches, and grave fears were held for the child's recovery.

The poison from matches works so slowly that no symptoms are shown even though the children are unconscious.

In the cases of the two children who died recently from digesting the match poisoning, it was not known that they had eaten the matches and until they were taken ill a dozen hours later their parents were unaware that poison had been slowly permeating their organs.

INVITE FRESHMEN WOMEN TO DEBATE

Co-eds of the First Year Class
Prepare Program for Term.

BERKELEY, March 7.—At the meeting of the freshman women called for Friday afternoon, several matters of importance were passed on. It was decided that they make the flag for the track team, as requested by the A. S. U. C.

The plans, which had been partially made, for the entertainment for the Senior Women's Building Fund, were abandoned because of the other functions of like nature which had been planned already this semester. It was decided to carry that benefit or not off until next term, and that an affair for the freshman women only be held in April.

E. F. Sullivan, '13, representing the Freshman Debating Society, invited all women interested to join that organization. Much interest was evidenced by the women.

The following committees were appointed:

Flag committee—Miss Camilla Clark (chairman), Miss Gertrude Mullen, Miss Jennie McDonald, Miss Margaret Hodge, and Miss Jessie Carter.

Entertainment committee—Miss Ethel Watkins (chairman), Miss Amy Wuite, Miss Emma Black, Miss Gwendolyn Powers and Clermont Withers.

Civil Engineers of University on Trip

BERKELEY, March 7.—Fifteen members of the Civil Engineering Association of the State University went to San Francisco Saturday afternoon and inspected the Y. M. C. A. building, now in the course of construction.

The new block of nine stories high and of steel framework throughout and contains running tracks, a large auditorium and a swimming tank, besides many other interesting features of construction. The trip was personally conducted by Mr. McDonald of the firm of McDougall Bros., architects, who explained the details of the work. Professors Dethleff and Sears of the Civil Engineering department accompanied the party on the trip. President A. J. Eddy '10 of the C. E. Association states that those who failed to go missed an excellent opportunity of learning the practical side of engineering.

Think Body Found in Bay May be Marshal

MARTINEZ, March 7.—The body of a man believed to be that of Samuel Leach, City Marshal of Woodland, who disappeared two weeks ago, was found floating in the bay at this place. The authorities believe it to be a case of suicide. The body had evidently been in the water not over fourteen days.

Identification marks are a V-shaped scar on the head and a missing middle finger on the right hand. The body was dressed in a black suit of clothes, a sweater vest, a plaid shirt and a red striped necktie. This tally-tales somewhat with a description of the missing official of Woodland, who dropped from sight without leaving trace.

Relatives of Marshal Leach will visit the Martinez mortuary tomorrow in effort to identify the remains.

TO MAKE PLEA FOR RUMMAGE SALES

Church Women Are to Appear Before Board of Health of Alameda.

ALAMEDA, March 7.—A delegation from the various churches has signified its intention of appearing before the board of health at its regular meeting tonight to protest against the ban put on rummage sales by this body.

That these sales spread germs throughout the city is the contention of the health board that has caused the indignant action of members of the church who have been holding sales for years past and use this means of making money for the church and charity.

The meeting tonight is expected to take the form of an indignation gathering. All of the women have attacked the members of the board of health, and as a result of the war evoked in church circles, it looks as though every physician on the health board would have to look elsewhere than in church circles for patronage.

J. A. Riley is the originator of the idea that the old clothing sold at the rummage sales spreads disease.

The board of health submitted an ordinance to the city council at a recent meeting asking that action be taken against the sales. The matter is under consideration.

Other routing matters will be transacted tonight and the condition of the east end, where there are twenty-five cases of scarlet fever will be discussed.

It is expected that some action will be taken against the car dwellers on the San Leandro shore, who have no sewers.

The fourth and fifth scattered along the shore is said to be serious enough to cause a pestilence in the city.

DR. TOM CARPENTER, who may be state vice-president of Eagles.

DR. TOM CARPENTER, who may be state vice-president of Eagles.

ALAMEDA, March 7.—Dr. Tom Carpenter, grand chaplain of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, is in line for the position of state vice-president of the order and is already making a campaign. He will probably be elected at the next annual convention to be held at Upland in May.

Dr. Carpenter has been prominent in fraternal affairs for many years and has always held office in the local aerie of Eagles. He was elected grand chaplain at the last convention held at Santa Cruz last May.

As most of the offices above that of chaplain are filled in rotation, there is little doubt but what Dr. Carpenter will fill the position of state vice-president.

Dr. Carpenter is also deputy grand worthy president of the entire lodge of Eagles in the United States. He was a delegate from Alameda Aerie to the grand lodge which held its annual convention in Virginia two years ago.

UNIVERSITY MEN
THIEF'S VICTIMS

Daylight Burglar Operates in Safety in a Berkeley
Lodging House.

BERKELEY, March 7.—Operations on the part of a bold daylight burglar in a lodging house occupied by college students adjoining Stiles hall, on Alston way, resulting in the loss of suits of clothes, overcoats, and other garments. M. Mihl, a freshman star Rugby player of the University of California, and L. J. Anderson, a junior in the college of social sciences, were the chief losers.

The house was entered yesterday in broad daylight, entrances being effected through a bedroom window. The thief ransacked the room, turning bureaus over on the floor, and throwing the contents of clothes cupboards and closets on the floor in order to make a hasty selection of the more valuable. Anderson places his loss at $30, and Mihl at $20.

The burglary is the seventh in a series of operations recorded by the Berkeley police in the past three weeks, and the local force is baffled by the skill and audacity of the gang the police believe to be operating in this city.

Centerville One of the Prosperous Centers of the County

FERTILE LAND SURROUNDS GROWING CITY

Community is Awakening to the Great Advantages That Hedge About It.

PEOPLE PROGRESSING AND HOME LOVING

Activity in Building Lines Are Based Upon Demands of Business.

When a people, inspired by community interests and are of energetic spirits, making up the population of a town of any size, resolve to enlist their best efforts in a unified way to promote the progress, prosperity and general welfare of that section in which they live and carry on their business, they will be successful in a measure to invoke the admiration and commendation of those round-about.

It has been said and oft repeated that Alameda county is peculiarly fortunate in the type and stamina of the men and women who go to make up the population living in peace and prosperity on her broad and fertile lands. This banner county of this State is exceptionally proud of this distinction and points to the works of these people who have developed the advantages so generously bestowed.

As in all classes, both better and worse, there are those people, those organizations, or, as in this case, those communities, that overtop the others, and stand at the head in the line of advancement or decline. If the town of Centerville, situated some 25 miles east of Oakland, can not conscientiously be placed at the head of that class of smaller communities in the county in relation to the improvement and the spirit which prompts it, it most certainly will take a stable and permanent place among those which are well in the lead.

Section Is Beautiful

Alameda county has been blessed by the Almighty with the greatest possible gifts in natural advantages and in the beauty of the hills and fields, the valleys and the mountains. The doubter could nowhere be more impressed with the truth of this claim than in the vicinity of Centerville and also at this very period of the year when the trees and the flowers are sending forth their welcoming heralds to the coming spring.

More than 2000 people live in and directly about Centerville surrounded by these flowers and trees. That they are doing more than their common duty and are one in their desire to cement and foster the upbuilding and uplifting of their town is evident.

Centerville is always first in the minds and energies of the residents. There is never known to be the least hint of dissension of the project on foot is one which means for the progress of the town. Those who can lend their financial aid are prompt and eager in their response.

Streets Well Kept

The town is surrounded by beautiful orchards, fields and rolling hills while blossoming orchards and shade trees line its streets throughout the limits of town. The thoroughfares are kept in a condition which would put to erected at Centerville a few years ago. This building is a frame structure and the property on which it stands are valued at $15,000. One hundred students attend the high school, coming from the sections about Niles, Centerville and Newark. Six teachers compose the faculty of the school.

With a capital stock of $3,000 the Bank of Centerville was established in June, 1905. Since that time the institution has grown through the confidence of the people. The deposits at the present time are $246,000. The bank is housed in a modern brick building occupied solely by it. The officers are John G. Mattos, Jr., president; Joseph Dias, vice-president; F. T. Dusterberry, cashier.

Fraternal organizations flourish in Centerville and more than a dozen chapters of the lodges have their meeting places here. Among them are to be mentioned the Masonic order, Native Sons and Daughters, order of the Holy Ghost, Portuguese Union of California Knights of Pythias, Order of the Eastern Star, Woodmen of the World, United Artisans, Order of Druids and the Protective Order of St. Isidore.

Men Energetic

The Centerville Improvement Association has at present the following officers: F. T. Hawes, president; George Joseph, vice-president; W. R. Smith, secretary; F. T. Dusterberry, treasurer.

Among those who have added materially to the improvement are generally upbuilding of Centerville.

F. T. Hawes, F. T. Dusterberry, J. G. Mattos, Jr., Judge S. Sandford, W. R. Smith, A. Sattler, George Joseph, F. F. Dusterberry, Rev. W. G. Houston, G. P. Up, A. Lornhart, C. A. Wills, Dr. W. H. Emerson, J. J. Santori, P. C. Hinley, B. C. Nichols, Henry Crosby, C. W. Riser, C. F. Horner, Prof. W. A. Yates, Prof. Joseph Dias, Prof. G. W. Wright, P. C. Hansen, E. M. Hawley, E. H. Stevenson, and Dr. D. B. Eaton.

The reverence, respect and esteem of the population.

The Centerville Grammar school is attended by over 300 students throughout the year. Six teachers are continually engaged here during the school term. The building stands on a wide tract surrounded by beautiful shade trees and the property is valued at $10,000.

The Washington high school was erected in a style in harmony with the expansion of gardens. The following residences can be mentioned as sample of the investments that have been made in this class of buildings.

C. F. Hornier, $7000; J. A. Bunting, $12,500; Mrs. W. H. Layson, $15,000;

William Patterson, $12,000; Dr. H. W. Emerson, $6000; A. Lornhart, $6000; Fred Moore, $6000, and Mrs. C. A. Plumber, $6000.

The industry through which Centerville thrives is fruit raising, sugar beet growing and the cultivation of grain. Apricot and cherries are the principal fruits grown and yet a great abundance of almonds are raised in the section. The almond trees are already in blossom and indications point to an unusually large crop this year.

Progress is evident in Centerville in the buildings which have been erected and the building construction which is now going on and planned for the near future. The only concrete building in miles round was erected in Centerville a short time ago. It was built by J. H. Stevenson and is an imposing structure in one of the most prominent blocks of the business street. The lower or ground floor is used for stores and the second story is devoted to lodges rooms for the use of the fraternal organizations of the town of which there are many flourishing ones. The building was erected at a cost of $16,000.

Recently Mrs. Mary Gregory erected a second concrete one-story building on the main business street of the town. The building, although small, is the most picturesque in the locality and is modelled to some extent on the plans of the old missions. One story occupies the structure. It was erected at a cost of $6000.

Centerville has one of the finest water systems of any town in Alameda county. The water is provided by several wells bored in the neighborhood and at a depth of 70 feet has been secured a pure supply of water. In connection with the water system Centerville has a volunteer fire department that has proven its efficiency.

Three prosperous churches are supported by the people of Centerville and they are housed in structures which are a great credit to the members of the organizations in particular and the citizens of the town in general.

The reason for the present activity is to be found in the fact that the market for sperm oil is depleted, while the price stands at 65 cents a gallon. In addition, whalebone is one of the most valuable products obtainable, and there is always a chance of finding a lump of ambergris, which is worth far more than its weight in gold.

Menwhile, the few survivors of the old-time whalers who, for more than a generation, have mourned the decline of what was once the city's principal industry, spend nearly all their spare moments on the wharves, exchanging reminiscences, while small boats and whaleboats, now outfitting, will sail in quest of the sperm whales which half a century ago laid the foundation of many a substantial fortune.

At least, however, surveys of the company have been working in the Silesian section for some time, although Manager Kelly says that they were not there for the purpose of mapping out an extension and that the company has no right of way.

The residents of Niles, on account of the refusal of the Southern Pacific road to grant their petition for a reduction of the 65-cent fare to San Francisco, have entered another petition with the street car company asking an extension of the Bayard line and it is expected that the request will be granted.

They are in a position to know that the dental made by officials of the company is in part due to their fear that, if their intention be known, the price of land, through which they would have to obtain a right of way, will immediately be raised.

NOT CLEAVED BY ROOSEVELT SWORD

General Wood Back to Duty; Denies Story of Gory Combat.

NEW YORK, March 7.—"No, there is no lie in the story that I received the injury in a broadsword combat with Col. Roosevelt. I hate to spoil a good story, but there is nothing in it," said Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the Department of the East, at his headquarters on Governor's Island this morning. He has completely recovered, he said, from the operation he underwent a few weeks ago at the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore. The injury, which made the operation necessary, was received in Cuba several years ago.

The story of this injury was told by General Wood in an interview given out here today.

"I received the wound while I was at Santiago, in charge of things on the island," he said. "Close behind my desk there was a hanging chandelier. One afternoon someone called me and I got up suddenly and hit the chandelier which was hanging particularly low. The blow must have broken my skull. I was completely stunned for the time, and the bad effects of the blow continued a long time. This gave me no trouble until five or six years ago when an operation was performed to relieve the pressure on certain nerve centers which seemed to affect the legs and forced me to lie up. At that time I was told that a supplementary operation would be necessary later to remove the scar. This is the operation I underwent in Baltimore."

S.S.S. THE ONLY REMEDY FOR BLOOD POISON

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer, so insignificant that often no attention is given it. But when the blood becomes more fully infected with the virus the mouth and throat get sore, glands in the neck and groin swell, and sometimes ulcerate, forming sores and ulcers, the hair comes out, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and where the disease is allowed to remain in the system the poison frequently penetrates deeper and attacks the bones. S.S.S. is the true antidote for Contagious Blood Poison—the only remedy that is able to get at the very root of the trouble and remove every particle of the virus from the circulation; at the same time S.S.S. acts with upbuilding an tonic effect on every portion of the system. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S.S.S. the symptoms begin to disappear and soon a perfect cure is made. S.S.S. can be used in the privacy of one's own home and a permanent cure effected. To aid those who wish to cure themselves at home we have prepared a special Home Treatment book which contains much valuable information to Contagious Blood Poison sufferers. With the aid of this book and the use of S.S.S. a cure can be effected in every case. We will send this book and also any medical advice desired free to all who write.

OAKLAND NINE WHITEWASHES WHITE SOX

FOG MAY HAVE DIMMED
CRACK BATSMEN'S EYES
LOCAL TEAM SHOWS
GREAT FORM IN FIRST OUT

It seemed very foggy to the White Sox at Freeman's Park yesterday morning. But to the Oaks and the Oakland fans the opaqueness of the atmosphere was scarcely discernible. Indeed the radiance of the countenances of the local rooters at the conclusion of the game was so resplendent that the obscurity of Old Sol was entirely forgotten.

The reason for this diversity of climatic impression was obvious. The mighty champions of the American league struggled along through nine scoreless innings, the while they swatted vainly at the collection of benders served up by the local twirlers. And in the meantime the presumptuous Oaklanders chased two tallies across the home plate, and actually dared to besmirch the crack visitors with a coat of whitewash. What further explanation of the atmosphere phenomena is needed?

FIRST TEAM VICTORIOUS

It was the first team of the famous Windy City squad too which took its medicine from the locals and thus added just a bit to the swiftness of the victory. The Oakland tosers really showed surprisingly good form for such an early-season contest, and the nine fans in the lineup endeared themselves to the "regulars" at the very outset of the game by the shifty way in which they cavorted about the diamond and the outer gardens and the determination which they displayed in whaling the leather. True the lit column did not total up to a surprisingly large aggregate but the bingles came when they counted which always staves off the fans for a failure to crack out safeties at every turn in the batters' box.

TRIO OF PITCHERS

Three slingers were tried out by Manager Wolverton for the Oakland team and they made a great showing two measty binges being the entire portion of the White Sox during the game. Christian, Tennessean and Nelson all did played fine form, and the slingers from the Windy City had no recourse save to baffle the batters upon the fog.

When Slim Nelson stepped to the mound to do the twirling for the locals Van Harten tried to announce him as the pitcher for Oakland. The veteran had to await the pleasure of the crowd however for the Silver was given a hearty welcome by the fans who have come to know him as one of the greatest twirlers the coast has seen in action. Slim should feel proud of the reception he received.

Wolverton played a nice third for the locals accepting a few hard chances in a workmanlike manner but his throwing was criticized a bit by the skeptics and it was suggested that he was a bit slow on the features. The manager had to run to the fence line and almost pitched the ball from the head of the tall birds along the fence line.

ented the Chicago Racing Form at Juarez is now in the City of Mexico.

In the afternoon game at Hayward the Oaks tumbled Hartline and French in the box and neither seemed to be able to extend himself. The Hayward team had seven runs in the first two innings while the French was in the box.

believe that we are at last to have a team that will be a credit to the city. Considering the little time we have had to practice they worked well together and showed considerable pep for the little time they have been at work. In the afternoon the team had a bit for fear of straining themselves but in the morning game every one of the team was up on his toes.

BRITT A SURPRISE

The real surprise of the morning game was the playing of Dick Britt. The Alameda youngster handled two very tough chances in the second inning each of which he had to back up to the fence to get and then made the showing better with a short hit to center that scored the first run of the game. Britt was at the bat three times and hit twice and was last and walked the last time up. In the last game he indulged a long foul ball that could easily be blamed to the wet grass on which he slipped when he started after the ball, excusable in the case of the popular player through the fact that he was not in the best of health.

Cuthshaw played a nice game at second and made a sensational one hand stop that made the fans sit up and take note.

Collins played a heady game at first and when in condition will no doubt prove a fast and clever man.

Wolverton's catching of a high foul during the last part of the game was one of the features.

The manager had to run to the fence line and almost pitched the ball from the head of the tall birds along the fence line.

JACKSONVILLE IS MAKING IT HOT FOR BOOKIES

Joe Rose Cleans Up $10,000 on Play at Emeryville Saturday.

By LEE DEMIER.

The first gun was fired against the booking end of the game at Jacksonville Saturday when information was filed in the criminal court against the Florida Live Stock and Agricultural Association and several bookmakers. Recent arrivals from the scene of racing at Monterey Park say that the horsemen and the general followers of the game are up in arms against "Poo-Ba Curly" Brown, who is responsible for the action taken by the authorities at Jacksonville. Incidents of an untoward nature enlivened the racing there one day last week. Jockeys were suspended, owners and trainers were fined, horses were bid up in selling races and several well-known horsemen were "fanned out of the gate."

The clerks in the employ of Layer Joe Rose were such doubledouble players Saturday. It is said that Rose cleaned up $10,000 on the wins of Duke of Milan, Bubbling Water and Likely Dieudonne.

Plunger Yank was a much talked of man after the races Saturday. Reports have it that he made a ten-strike when Duke of Milan won and he followed it up by plastering Likely Dieudonne with a good bet.

Manager and Trainer Richard Dwyer who left here the first of last week to attend a meeting of the stockholders of the Utah Jockey Club, arrived home Saturday. He said he only got as far as Hattie Mountain where the train was held up by a wash out and had to lay over at that place until the train brought him back here again. Dwyer said that he will make another attempt to reach the Mormon city the latter part of the week.

"Rod" Mackenzie who bought Rapido Water at a private sale the other day intended to send the Rapido Water Goliath to his breeding farm to mate to some of his prize mares will not make the journey, unless the Canadian forester is lucky enough to get him back from the barn of Allen & Hensley who claimed the horse out of the third race Saturday for $600.

Owner Guy Gray lifted the selling price on Thistle Belle from $500 to $600. The horse did not change hands.

Charley Bogan's Novgorod carried more weight to him in the six furlong dash Saturday. The horse was twisted around with his tail when he started after the ball, excusable in the case of the popular player through the fact that he was not in the best of health.
